THE ISSUE
If you are like most people, you have a television in your home. Many homes, in fact, have more than one television.

The home theater entertainment experience is a growing trend, and larger televisions are popular purchases and not always supported on proper TV stands.

Sometimes TVs are improperly secured or in appropriately situated on dressers, bookcases, shelves, desks, audio speakers, chests or carts. As a result, TV sets may fall over and cause injury.

TUNE IN TO SAFETY

1. One Size does NOT fit all! Use the appropriate stand or entertainment center to support the weight, shape and size of your TV (and other electronic components).

2. Use appropriate angle braces, straps and anchors to secure your furniture to the wall (but never screw directly into the TV).

3. Carefully read and understand all enclosed instructions for proper use of this product.

4. Do not allow children to climb on or play with furniture and television sets.

5. Don’t place TVs on furniture that can easily be used as steps, such as a chest of drawers.

6. Avoid placing any items in top of your TVs that may stimulate a child’s curiosity.

7. Remember that children can become excited while watching a program and can potentially push a TV over.

8. Share our safety message with your family and friends.

Thank you!
